A CHAMBER OF COMMERCE?

Appomattox is and will be as small or as large as the vision of its people. The will to grow and progress must be deeply imbedded to outmaneuver the shackles of self- complacency.

A group of citizens have recently sought to organize a chamber of commerce to advance the commercial interests of the community. A chamber of comerce is an organization, most often nationally affiliated, which seeks to develop local resources and potential resources, with the end of advancing the economic and business life of the community. Frequently, its activities center around a sustained effort to promote the value of the community for business enlargement and extension.

The worth of the idea has been thoroughly tested in thousands of communities both smaller and larger than Appomattox. Wheresoever it has been backed by hard work, vision and a budget, it has secured some results. Wheresoever it has been formed and then left to shift for itself without loyal and financial support, it has ended up by being just another organization.

No community in Virginia has more to offer potential advancement than Appomattox. In the heart of the world's finest dark tobacco section, it has agricultural assets of unmeasureable worth. In the midst of abundant labor available at reasonable wages, it has ample industrial possibilities. Chosen by destiny as the site of an historical event of world significence, it offers a glamorous field to the civic group with vision to bring about the development and capitalization of that asset.

Therefore, the field for a chamber of commerce here is limitless.

No economic phase of the life of our generation is more pronounced than the industrialization of the South. Such communities as Gastonia, Burlington, Martinsville, Danville, Waynesboro, etc. have been "made" by this process. Our neighboring town of Altavista has in recent months made rapid strides through its industrialization. Appomattox can have an equal share in progress IF our citizens have the vision to drive and keep driving until it is secured.

This writer recently heard one congressman, Hon. P. H. Drewry say that the tourist trade alone at Gettysburg was valued at five million dollors annually. No spot in America has greater possibilities in that line than Appomattox.

Let's form a LIVE chamber of commerce. Let's go forward into the boom years following the depression with a will to win, instead of wrapping ourselves in the smug complacency of small town life. America was made by builders. People they were who challenged each new day as an opportunity to enlarge their horizon. Our constant enimy has been self-satisfaction.

What will be Appomattox's answer to the challenge to go forward, stridently triumphant, with the NEW ERA?

BEST NEWS YET

News reports from the bright tobacco markets, which opened Tuesday are the basic for the best outlook in this section for many years. With bright tobacco averaging 30 cents per pound, we venture the guess that dark tobacco will average 15 cents when our markets open November 7.

It can really be said that no agricultural right now has a rosier outlook than tobacco. Farmers in the cotton, peanut, potato, wheat and trucking belts are pessimistic about their future. Tobacco farmers and the business men in the tobacco belts, should be LOOKING UP.

LOSES HAND AND FOOT. SOON TO LEAVE HOSPITAL

Jesse T. Meadows, formerly of this county, and having a number of relatives here now, Roanoke attorney and druggist, lost his left hand and foot in a strange hunting accident near Roanoke on September 5, is expected to be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

Physicians state that both wounds are healing nicely and that he could go home about the middle of the week.

The accident was one of the strangest on record. He fell from a small tree into which he had climbed to shoot at a squirrel. As he fell, his left wrist caught against the blade of an ax, which he had stuck into a log, severing his hand from his arm, while a shotgun went off, both discharges of the shot entering his left ankle, and necessitating amputation.

Actual photograph of Dr. Carver's remarkable high-diving horse, snapped in midair as it plunges from the 40 foot high platform. The daring girl rider may be seen clinging to the animal's back. This is one of the outstanding features of the Virginia State Fair.

The three greatest and costliest outdoor attractions now appearing in this country have been engaged for the grandstand program of the annual Virginia State Fair at Richmond the week of October 1, according to General Manager Chas. A. Somma.

Dr. Carver's high-diving horse and girl rider is given headline position on the bill and is expected to prove the greatest "thriller" ever witnessed at the Fair. The animal, a big snow-white mare, mounts to a 40-foot high platform mounted by an attractive young miss, paws, bows and hesitates on the brink for breath-taking seconds, then plunges headforemost into the depths from a 10-foot tank of water.

Charles [illegible] on the program are the [illegible] Troupe and the Chinese Sensation. The former is a remarkable group of tumbling and acrobatic performers believed to be the greatest of their kind in the world. The Chinese act is said to be equally outstanding in its particular class, being performed atop three poles 75 feet high, on which is a circular track. Around this races at breath-neck speed a motorcycle driven by one of the performers, which causes the unique apparatus of trapeze and ladders to gyrate while other members of the troupe go through their thrilling performance.

Other features on the Fair's lengthy program include the Castellos Troupe in four distinct equestrian and animal acts, the Hollywood Clowns in two amusing presentations, and Walt Disney's "Three Little Pigs".

The latest edition of the Winter Garden Revue will again be the Fair's main attraction, offering an entirely new series of numbers. Horses and automobile races, a new Midway and elaborate fireworks are other features of the big exposition.

Farmville Fair Next Week

Agricultural Exhibits, Auto Show And Midway Are Features

Farmville, Sept. 27. (Special) The Five County Fair, including the counties of Prince Edward, Buckingham, Cumberland, Charlotte and Amelia, opens in Farmville next Monday, October 1, and will close Saturday, October 6, with the annual Goodwill Day. The fair grounds have been established on Route 460, west of Farmville, and the exhibit building will be the former furniture factory. A city of tents will house the automobile show, merchants exhibits and a midway with six big rides and twenty shows.

Special events have been planned for each day and each night, with a special program of fire works on Wednesday night. Exhibits of farm products in the five counties have been entered, 4 H clubs will have a special section, and many new features in farm machinery and equipment have been arranged.

The annual Goodkill Day, which has brought thousands of people to Farmville for the last two years, will be held on Saturday, October 6. Free street programs and acts, contests and prizes will feature the day. An air circus will take place at one clock, and the new airport will be dedicated. The "Flying Aces," who recently showed in nRichmond, have been secured for the air circus.

"We are looking forward to the greatest fair ever held in this section," said R. B. Crawford, fair manager, "and we want to invite every person in Southside Virginia. We feel sure this fair will be an enjoyable event."

Gen. Johnson quits as head of the NRA.

Kept Taking Cardui Until She Got Rid of the Severe Pains

When Mrs. Ida Hege, of Edinburg, Ind., was in a painful, run-down condition, she took Cardui, with the results she describes below: "I had just been what one might say dragging around, feeling miserable and all out of sorts. I remembered how Cardui helped my aunt. I sent for six bottles of Cardui and when I had taken them, I was much better and stronger. I did not suffer so much pain. I continued taking Cardui until I had taken nine bottles. I do not have the severe pains." . . . Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Let Chevrolet tell its own story of riding and driving comfort

Make the ownership test

CHEVROLET When all is said and done, the best way to get at the truth behind the fine things you hear and read about the new Chevrolet, is to get in the car and drive. Take this car (your Chevrolet dealer will gladly loan you one), drive it over the same routes, in the same way you drive your present automobile, and let the results you can see and feel tell their own story. You have heard that Knee-Action makes bad roads good, and good roads better. A ride will prove it. You have heard that Chevrolet provides shock-proof steering, Syncro-Mesh gear-shifting, a remarkably flexible 80-horsepower engine, and cable-controlled brakes. A few minutes at the wheel will show you what a difference these advancements make in safety and driving ease. And when the ride is over, and you step out refreshed and ready for more, you will know why so many thousands have found it impossible to return to ordinary driving after an experience like this.
